----- About Yella Yella began to play guitar and write songs in 2001 after a back and neck injury she recieved in a head-on collision. Though there were no visible injuries from the accident, she was no longer able to work as a cosmetology instructor, so she turned to music as a way to pass the time, and after people heard her songs, they encouraged her to record them, so she did-and here they are. On January 10, 2003, she recorded "She Came Down From Little Paris" (Soldier And The Fortune Teller), and on January 14 the song was featured on WLIL 730 AM radio hosted by Ron McDonald -and -in May it was featured on ipeoplesmusic(Indigenous People's Music)hosted by Michael Kickingbear. ----- "The Cherokee Rose" some of our mothers they fell by the way the others moved on just to see the next day the elders they gathered because of thier cries and so The Creator he gave them a sign from the cruelest october our history knows a legend was born called The Cherokee Rose copyright 1983 / 2003 Yella ----- Presently her music is being featured on atleast 14 online radio stations... 1-live365.com/stations/skeptical3 the crystal ballroom 2-live365.com/stations/sonja1988 musical stew 3-live365.com/stations/bagcan web sky sound 4-live365.com/stations/tcg1 military news radio 5-hober hober thinking radio

----- Painted On The Sky (Ekaneetlee Sunrise) verse 1 he likes to watch the ekaneetlee sunrise comin' up while he's sippin' from his favorite starry-starry cup golden glow between the trees mountain laurel on the breeze chorus the ekaneetlee sunrise never fades never a line and no admission at the gate every mornins a surprise softly painted on the sky verse 2 he'll show you a place between the branches of the trees as he tells forgotten stories of the cherokee you can see the trail of tears hear them fallin in your ears repeat chorus verse 3 he saw the shadow of an eagle at the water's edge saw a feather floatin' softly on a riverbed said 'the eagle's only friend is the kindness of the wind' repeat chorus ----- yella haired ndn girl and rhiannon are the same artist little red feather and ekaneetlee sunrise are the same album ----- thanks
