A word from Chris: "I grew up in East Austin, "El barrio," it was very tempting to join a gang and get into trouble. My father was rarely around, due to my parents divorcing when I was six years old. There were times we did with out electricity, heat, and food. My reason to go to school was for the free lunches! Playing outside and sitting on top of the roof of my house, because of no electricity, became one of my favorite things. It was there that I started to write songs, in the quiet of the night, away from the noise down on the ground. Never the less, I kept going and never gave up. It was the Lords strength that drove me and kept me sane." "First time out of the chute CD is going to be a hit! Pay special attention to, Pouring Rain, radio play material!" J. Martinez, Christian Concerts Productions Promotions
