Tom Petty and The Heartbreakers with the punch of Radiohead "Sing-along-Pop you can relate to... Familiar, yet, refreshingly sweet, bursting with emotion and capable of giving you something to sing all day. 13 MP3 Songs POP: Power Pop, ROCK: Acoustic Details: Here is what others are saying about "A Small Part of Something Beautiful": "This is an up and coming artist and we love his pop sound" - 94.7FM KNRK "If you are a fan of Indie-pop, this record is for you, no doubt." - KPSU radio "In the fashion of most pop-love-rockers such as Jack Johnson and Pete Dinklage, Jacob Ray writes the soundtrack for your next broken-hearted car ride in the rain. his albums beg for you to sing along between the tears and melodies. The band can rock but holds back so you have time to think about where this relationship is going." - Willamette Week "It is apparent the amount of detail that was placed into writing and recording the album "A Small Part of Something Beautiful". The song, Do I Dare? is perhaps the banger of the LP with its catchy drumbeat and guitar hooks that bring to mind the music of the Lucksmiths or early Kissing Book. With vocals which sound of Thom Yorke. "A Small Part of Something Beautiful" is one guy writing, performing, and producing this record...and it sounds great." - Angelo De Leso II of "Live Friday" "Keeping its complex edge, the music is accessible poetry, but most importantly, it is sincere." - Statesman Journal "There is a lot of heart and soul in this man's music... watch for this man to make some noise" - Myspace.com Jacob Ray is currently performing solo and with his full band. "A Small Part of Something Beautiful", was released in December 2004. The album has a full spectrum of emotions and tempos, from colorful dreams to explosive excitement. His songs have charm and personality and build a rare connection with you.
