"Jeff Harris has that tight, polished, sweet, no-nonsense rock sound. His songs seem to drift out of the stereo without effort..." - Mish Mash Music Review 12 MP3 Songs ROCK: Acoustic, FOLK: Modern Folk

Details: The album Lemon Yellow, by the Jeff Harris Band, is a collection of songs that speak to times of transition in a person's life; times when staying with the one you loved was just as difficult as leaving, when the touch of someone else's hand was enough to make you nervous, or when you had to choose between following your dreams and paying your rent. Beautifully simple in melody and delivery, the songs from Lemon Yellow remind us of a time in our lives, whether last year or last week, when the future wasn't quite so decided. Unable to be easily defined, Jeff Harris' style seemingly is inspired as much by folk heroes Paul Simon and James Taylor as it is by alternative rock bands like Wilco and Counting Crows. While songs such as "Sweet October Sun", "Big Time", and "Guatemala" may draw comparisons to the music of the great folk singers of the 1970s, the songs "Perfect", "Pop Star", and "Treat Her Well" tell their tales with a pop-fueled energy that would merit an audience sing-a-long. Listen to Lemon Yellow and allow yourself to be endeared by Harris' honest stories of broken hearts and big dreams. In Jeff's lyrics, you may be surprised to find elements of your own past. Reviews: Indie-Music.com: "Lemon Yellow, the new album from the Jeff Harris Band, is a pleasure for the unsuspecting listener...Jeff Harris Band is one of the more impressive groups I've heard recently." - Jacob Lee Mish Mash: "The songs presented here are right on the money---whether it's the cheeky, modern acoustic pop of Perfect or the prime time rock steady Pop Star, Harris knows how to write a strong song which takes on a life of its own." The Noise - Boston: "Harris is introspective, poetic, creative, and genuine." Individual Songs available for sale on iTunes and NAPSTER.
