Confusatron is an experimental band that dabbles in multiple genres. Putting together death metal, jazz, and cartoon music with ska, rockabilly, and punk. 8 MP3 Songs METAL: Alternative Metal, ROCK: Progressive Rock Details: Confusatron is a musical atrocity from southern Maine. Many have attempted to describe their music and, upon trying, have imploded. It's not pretty. Confusatron is actually a multi-genre bandbot. A combination of three separate robots: Mixolydicon (Doug Porter - Guitar and Vocals), Ultraflam (Adam Cogswell - Drums and Percussion), and Rumblebot (Jason LaFrance - Bass and Computer). They battle the evil mainstream Audiobots to keep their "music" from melting the brains of the innocent public and destroying humanity as we know it. Their musical influences are wide in range from Mr. Bungle, Primus, and Fugazi to John Zorn, Frank Zappa, and The Residents; however, they seem to be influenced as much by Adult Swim cartoons and the video games they play as they are by the music they listen to. If you are looking for something new that is both challenging and unique. Hey! Look over here!
