Transmitting worldwide from the City of Brotherly Love...it's the Soulscream. The future is here and now, truth, love and funkiness are in effect...Behold the divine vibrations and dance, dance, dance... 15 MP3 Songs URBAN/R&B: Funk, POP: with Live-band Production Details: Every so often, there is a musical revolution that occurs in the industry due to the corporate domination and tasteless business practices that stifle both the creativity and the desire to produce quality art through music. This among other reasons is what prompted Majestic and Jewel D. to produce their unique blend of phunk, rock, and soul in their most recently produced cd "Metatronics."..."the music gospel" of the current times reflecting their opinion of what the state of music could be. Drawing their influences from such ground breaking acts like James Brown, Prince, the Beatles, Beck, Bjork and the whole eclectic melting pot of musicians and artists that are not afraid of individual expression through music, the duo has created an interesting style of music that transcends the physical realm and inspires the spirit to soar. If this is what the future of music could become then there may be hope for the artists of tomorrow...or at least some new inspiration. Here's hoping that the world is ready for SoulScream and what they have to say...just listen and groove!!!
