While singing Christian music with her family, which was her first love, she developed a passion love for country music, and as a firm believer in the fact that God has given each of us the gift of a specific ability to become the true person that we were created to be, she knew early in life that her gift was to write and sing Christian country music, once in her teens she started to tap into this gift and wrote several Christian country songs, but continued to sing Christian music while traveling with her father. After completing a trip around the world performing for crowds of twenty thousand or more, in countries like, The Philippines, Africa, India, many others, she met her husband and moved to an Island in the Bahamas and took a break for a few years, In 1995 she moved back to Georgia and started to focus on her music again, She and two of her siblings had been in the studio recording a Christian CD, as a tribute to their father, and his songs, when he became ill, and though she is thankful he got to hear the final cuts, he passed away before it was finished and so the CD was not released until 1997.
