

Mp3 Kate Power & Steve Einhorn - Tales From Puddletown

DOWNLOAD HERE

The best family album in years, enjoyed as much by the parents as the kids. Designed to get your kidling from the bathtub to bed sleeping. The kind of album the whole family enjoys listening to. 11 MP3 Songs

KIDS/FAMILY: General Children's Music, FOLK: Modern Folk Details: BRAND NEW! In concert with the production of Now Then, Kate Steve slipped in the family album they've always wanted to do and hadn't gotten around to UNTIL NOW! The best all-ages album in years, this collection of songs is designed for the enjoyment of the parents as much as it is for the youngsters. Designed to begin getting your young one ready for sweet dreams, these songs will give you a melodious background to move through the paces from the bathtub to the crib. If they're not sleeping by the end of the last lullaby, it won't be because of the music! From Power's original old-time banjo tune, Old Bullfrog , Einhorn's irrepressibly wonderful rendition of Rev. Gary Davis' Candy Man to the oldest Irish lullaby on record, Castle of Dromore, Kate Power Steve Einhorn bring a menagerie of original, traditional and ancient songs to your child's repertoire and musical heritage. These are songs are intelligent, warm, and full of imagery of the world around us and make you want to sing, harmonize and dance. Cast of Musicians: Kate Power: Vocals, DADGAD Guitar, 5-String Banjo Steve Einhorn: Vocals, Guitar, High-Strung Guitar, Ukulele, 6-String Banjo, Horn Lips Gregg Williams: Drums Percussion Phil Baker: Bass Courtney Von Drehle: Accordion Harley James: Pedal Steel Mike Van Liew: Piano, Trumpet Lex Browning: Fiddle Dan Compton: Fiddle Mick Doherty: Hammered Dulcimer, Upright Bass "Old Bullfrog" Jim Chapman: Pennywhistles Brian Davis: Percussion on "Guabi, Guabi"

DOWNLOAD HERE

Similar manuals: