Jumpin', swingin', funkin', low down sweatin', a little rockin', fat layered guitar arrangements, and down to earth lyrics, and top notch production. 11 MP3 Songs BLUES: Electric Blues, BLUES: Rockin' Blues

Details: Modern History is the second recording effort by Scott Bouck and the Pole Cats in their 3 years together. The power trio from Idaho (hey! that's not funny!), packed up their van and headed to Portland to Falcon Studios, to meet up with studio wizard Dennis Carter, for an outstanding three days of recording. The result is a cd that achieved what most groups hope to produce in three weeks or three months. In Scott's words, "That place has some serious mojo floating around. It's like I could feel all of the great music that has gone down there, and all of a sudden I was a part of it. Working with Dennis was awesome, and my music just flowed through me like cheap beer. I can't wait to do it again." The cd is filled with smooth and savvy bass from Don Sumpter, guitar you can feel and vocals you can relate with from Scott Bouck, and the kind of amazing drum work rarely heard on a blues based recording from Bill Willcox.
