A soulful organic acoustic mix of original Folk, Rock and Blues. 10 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk Pop, ROCK: Acoustic Details: A pure voice and unspoiled powerful presence have gained the singer-songwriter from Minneapolis a steady national following since she began playing solo shows on the downtown New York City club scene. Trina attended Berklee College of Music in Boston, graduating with a degree in Professional Music. She then moved to New York City and began playing the club circuit in the band, Blue Leaves, as she honed her songwriting skills and found her voice. Demand has grown steadily. While touring acoustically, Trina has shared stages with Paula Cole, Ricki Lee Jones, John Hiatt and Duncan Shiek. She was chosen as one of the "Most Wanted" artists at the Falcon Ridge Folk Festival and performed to a sold out crowd at the Newport Folk Festival, along with Ani DiFranco and the Indigo Girls. Trina has jokingly said that the blues were created in her native Minnesota...she's only kidding, of course but one thing Hamlin is quite serious about is the importance of blues feeling. Her newest release "Foundation" takes us back to the basics: guitar, harmonica, piano and voice. . . . has a musical and emotional range that should take her far . . . proving that a great voice can still be the best secret weapon. . . . a voice that amazes and her songs are endearingly raw, mixing elements of R&B, blues and rock with grace and apparent ease. . . . Hamlin's organic mix of Folk, Rock and Blues works wonders in an acoustic setting and her soulful voice has a Siren-y ability to pull the listener closer. Mike Breen - Cincinnati CityBeat . . . a powerhouse voice, sizzling harmonica chops and a gift for blending blues, folk, pop and rock. Jim Catalano- Ithaca Journal A gritty, passionate soulfulness drives her work Trina is an amazing guitar and blues harp player. I was left slack-jawed. Joe del Priore-Hudson Current One of the most exciting new voices on the unplugged scene. Trina was a showstopper at the Newport Folk Festival. - Multi Stage Productions
