She was the youngest of 2 children. As a young child while other children liked to run and play Kiarra always like to emulate famous r b singers. Such as Gladys Knight, Jocelyn Brown, and Mavis Staples. At the age of 12 she first displayed her talent by winning a talent show beating out 30 other children. The prize was to get a chance to do tracks for a single with Lil nique, of Lil nique and Just. Kiarra spent most of her childhood living in Brooklyn New York At the age of 14 she and her family relocated to Columbia S.C. At first she didnt like the ways of the south, because it was much different than living in the east. It took her time to adjust and gave her more time to focus on her music career. Kiarra's parents always preached education first, so in order to practice singing she had to do well in school. Her goal was to be one of the heavy hitters of the R&b industry. Through her cousin she got a chance to work with songwriter and producer Jack Knight of Bad Boy entertainment on two songs for his artist, Jabri. She also worked with a New York artist by the name of Daddy Walbucks. Kiarra's ultimate goal is to be one of the greatest singers of all time.
