EASY LISTENING: Mood Music, CLASSICAL: New Age Details: Ever leave a concert walking on air, feeling so inspired, like the beauty of the music lifted you up? This is the power of song! Lauren Niamesy was very fortunate to feel this power day in and day out growing up in a home dominated by singing. Her mother was a voice teacher and maintains a studio today in Albuquerque, NM. At a young age, Laurens main focus was piano, but she was enchanting audiences in home productions of operas such as Hansel and Gretel. In her teens, Lauren concentrated on voice and received her primary classical instruction from her mother. These years saw Lauren singing professionally in a vast array of concerts, theatrical shows, and theme-park productions. An exciting turning point occurred when Lauren landed a position with Royal Caribbean Cruise Lines as a singer/dancer in lavish production shows. She went on to perform with Royal Caribbean, Holland America, and Radisson Cruise Lines in singing roles as diverse as Christine in The Phantom of the Opera and Molly Brown in The Unsinkable Molly Brown. Cruising proved to be a wonderful training ground for honing vocal skills and developing versatility. A moment to remember came while on a Mediterranean tour to the Theater at Epidaurus in Navplion, Greece. Said to be the home of Greek theater, the theater is famous for its natural acoustics. To the delight of tourists, Lauren demonstrated the amazing acoustics with some Italian arias and Broadway tunes! Like the wonders of the ancient world, songwriting has opened up a wonderful new world for Lauren. Often constrained by directors visions and others demands, now Lauren is free to sing what she desires and in the manner she chooses. This freedom of expression shines through on her unique first CD Free Again. Combining a rich romantic tapestry of thought-provoking lyrics and sensual accompaniments, the songs are beautifully artful and provocative. Ive always been attracted to haunting, thoughtful music. Perhaps it is the Hungarian in me. Perhaps it is the slightly haunting and gentle way in which Laureen blends pop-art songs and classical styles that make this CD so refreshingly original. Listeners will love the vocal purity and honesty which lend themselves to her inimitable style. Music is sustenance for the soul and Free Again proves to be just that!
