Details: Matt was born June 29th, 1979 in Garden Grove California. Shortly after, his family moved to the small desert community of Phelan California to leave the rat race behind. Matts father, veteran blues and jazz harmonica guru Mo Grundy, started out six-year-old Matt with a well-seasoned Fender Bronco and some basic blues licks. It was soon obvious to his family that Matt had inherited dads Gift for music. Within few short years, Matt was making regular appearances accompanying his dad on stage around the Southern California music scene. As his musical horizon broadened throughout his school years, Matt added drums and bass to his arsenal, resulting in a coveted music scholarship to Costa Mesas Vanguard University. Finally, with his chops honed and passion to break through, Matt flourished in the Orange County music scene, catching the eyes and ears of surf-rocker Donavon Frankenreiter. For the past seven years, Matts skills have continued to mature and evolve while touring the world as Donavons bassist and collaboratorearning his solo-artist opening act credentials on their 2008 Pacific Rim tour. The collection of songs presented on Matts debut release cd, Fabric and Fog are all compositions he wrote during these travels.
