Biography I was first approached for modeling in Santa Barbara when I was 14. I still lived in San Francisco, so I did not move. My mother was not supportive of me being a model and instead encouraged my education- since she was very well educated. So, I attended college at UC Berkeley when I was accepted at the age of 17. There, I was "discovered" again repeatedly and began doing fashion shows for North Beach Leather, Ellen Tracy, and other and major designers; and, as an in-house model for I. Magnin's in San Francisco. I did some testshooting and had some major agencies interested in me as a model, but it never really took off. I didn't believe much in myself and my family was completely unsupportive. I came to Los Angeles with a friend who suggested I move here to model and act. I did and became an in-house model for I. Magnin's in Beverly Hills. I have since been on Baywatch, Pamela Anderson's show VIP, and Pacific Blues; as well as a music video for the Cumbia Kings (Selena's brother's group) called "Azucita". I will soon be shown in a feature film called Sunstorm with Bo Derek, and filmed my first supporting role in a made-for HBO movie called "Love is Blind". While here in LA I was also lucky enough to get the opportunity to start modeling in Milan, Italy. I am also pursuing a career in singing :latin pop/techno. Quentin Mays of World WIDE Recordings listened to my demo and signed me to his label. Track Listing in English 1. I Can Feel It 2. Come Play with Me 3. Butterfly 4. Bring It Here 5. Pay Me 6.
