Out of the world of modern rock comes a singer/songwriter with something different. "...Schicker isn't satisfied with scribbling clever little ditties on scrap paper...rather, he writes from an honest place with his eyes and ears wide open.He observes and explores himself and the world around him and seeks truth in his songwriting..." writes journalist Reka Jellema. With a distinct lyrical style and a strong, experienced voice, Josh Schicker communicates with anxious ease, his stories and thoughts on life, love and God.Committed to creating a natural emotion with his music, Schicker chooses mostly acoustic instruments, occasionally accompanied by light electronic music, to evoke a response as honest and unique as the music itself. Writer, producer and musician Mitch Dane said,"Josh has a beautifully organic sound that is an incredible compliment to his engaging lyrics and memorable melodies," in response to hearing Schicker's first solo release With "Wonderful Fool", released in July 2003, Schicker is set on engaging his audiences at the next level. Grand Rapids Magazine contributor, Lisa Jensen writes, "...Schicker pulls his audience in through the merit of introspective lyrics fused with and fueled by contemplative acoustic licks...the contagious combination bridges the gap between what's merely listenable and what's markedly laudable--and results in magnetic musicianship." So, please take some time and look, listen and learn about the music of Josh Schicker.
