Thorobredz consist of Mac Meezy and Murda Murph. The two originally met each other their freshman year of high school when Murph's mother moved him form the East Side of San Jose California to the South Side. Mac and some of the other homies from San Jose's notorious Crime Zone quickly laced Murph with SouthSide game. After high school Mac and Murda went their seperate ways. Murda moved down south to Georgia and pursued his rap career while also doing a short stint in the military, and in the mean time Mac stayed on the turf doing his thug thang beating every case the punk police tried to hit him with. The two never thought at the time that they would one day be uniting to release music that would rep the Bay Area like never before while also introducing the city of San Jose to the nation. The two reunited in January of 2004 when Murf moved back to the Bay Area. After listening to each others solo work Mac and Murph agreed that as a unit they could kill the industry. So, they began recording immediately as a duo called the Thorobredz under the Dark Hussla Entertainment umbrella that Mac and his brother Mr. Splitt founded in 1996. After recording for an entire year the wait is finally over Dark Hussla Productions in collaboration with Thorobread Entertainment presents "THOROBREDZ" the album.
