Details: Bruce Burgess Gospel Music, The Rooster Song CD Many people have told me The Rooster Song CD is special. Judging by the response it got from the PA State Gospel Singing Convention when it was released, I would have to agree. Everyone loved The Rooster Song. Comments were, Its funny with a message, I have to buy one of those Rooster CDs to give to a friend, Theres the guy who sings the Rooster Song. I heard it on the radio and I had to get it, one lady bought six copies to give friends as Christmas presents. :) Music for a Christmas present, what a novel idea.:) The roosters pictures on the cover, inside and back are pictures of real roosters. They were tethered apart and none were hurt during the picture taking or after. There is a picture on the inside of one strutting around and a couple pictures of the Roosters getting angry at each other. It's what they do naturally. The birds are beautiful, very colorful. The picture on the back of the CD happened when my friend said the sun was bouncing off my head blinding him. I couldnt help but look over at him and laugh. Its one of those un-posed, happened at the right time moment pictures and yes the roosters were looking and listening to me sing their song. The Rooster Song is great fun to sing. When I sing it on stage I like to watch the audience faces laughing, knee slapping, smiling and asking the person next to them Did you hear what he said? reply, Yes, aint it the truth! I want to have my wife take video from behind me while Im singing The Rooster Song on stage. Then I can share peoples enjoyment and reactions of listening to the song. Its one of the reasons I enjoy singing The Rooster Song so much. The rest of the songs are great also: if I do say so myself. :) (I wrote all of them except The Rooster Song) :) No Need For Gasoline is an up to date Country Gospel Blues number about the high price of gasoline, food, insurance, taxes, union dues and still having money to tithe. It also tells how Jesus is in control. Some nice jazz chord riffs on the chorus. I always give to Jesus. The Hallelujah Song will be sure to get the Choir singing, meaning everyone that is going to Heaven A great Choir singing a Hallelujah song. Hallelujah. When I wrote and played it for my wife the 1st time she chimed in right on Hallelujah, without being prompted! I knew it was a keeper, as I knew she was when I met her in high school. I thank Jesus everyday for her love and support. I would have a hard time trying to do everything I do without her. Do you know who Jubal is? Read in your Bible Genesis 4:21. You will find out who he was. Jubal was from the lineage of Cain and is the father of all those who play the harp and the flute. This song tells the story of a young man wanting to hear Jubal play. Not unlike myself, growing up listening to my father and then my uncle play the guitar. Oh.Jubal.. please.. play. Lord, I need you today was written for a prison ministry outreach I went to in Alabama the last week of Jan. 08. When I wrote the song I didnt know at the time who God had intended it for. While playing Gospel music in the Alabama prisons for a week, getting to know the prisoners and going into different prisons. (A speaker would speak for hour then my bass player Hank and I would play for a hour. We would get to jamb and talk some before and after the service with the prisoners.) Even though the prisons were somewhat crowded, there was a great sense of loneliness, looking for answers and help. This made quite the impression and I knew the song was meant for the prisoners. I preformed it in Alabama for the 1st time publicly. Attending were about 350 volunteers from 20 different states and Canada. The We Care Crusade began 30 years ago and now reaches over 20 prisons in Alabama with many different Church denominations being represented. For more information visit their web site. Maybe get involved. wecareprogram Do you want to go to Heaven? tells in a nutshell how to go to Heaven. With nice finger chords and a neat beat on the chorus.. Youve gotta Believe, God, the Holy Spirit and Jesus are all the same one. Judgment Day is an upbeat song that tells a story of what people might say on judgment day. I was originally going to call it Dont get stupid. There are clichs and sarcasm excuses that unfortunately some people might think will let them slip into Heaven Dont get stupid. Summing up. From the Pa State Gospel singing convention I have been asked to be a guest on Family-Life TV. Taping 11-10-08 I dont know when it will be aired. If you read this after it has been aired and would like to see it, go onto their web site, familylifetvget on the home page, top right side, click on to SHARE, then when the alphabet comes up click on to the Bs for Bruce Burgess and you can watch it. Have you seen the Ken video? If you havent, e-mail me: Gloryroadproductions@comcast I will forward it to you. I would also be interested in how you like The Rooster Song CD. ENJOY To God Be The Glory Bruce Burgess
