Since he has received the Holy Spirit, he has exceeded to a more anointed level in his career, praise God. At the age of 13 he was freestyling from the local park to rapping over records in a friends garage. This became a quick pick up. At 15, he was writing rhymes over his own records and turntables in his bedroom, which led him to writing songs. When he turned 17 he was producing instrumentals and recording his own songs with his own recording studio. He began recording local artists from Hip-Hop to R&B and had already recorded his first album. By 19 he had produced hundred's of instrumentals and recorded numerous albums. From performing at clubs and promoting himself in anyway possible he was going to find out that all the fame and money wasn't going to satisfy him in the way he needed. In October 2002 E-nonymous received the only news that would change his life for ever. A baby boy, his son Dominick born October 6th, 2002. No more playing around now he had to become a father and do what fathers do best, love their children. "After my son was born I had to change, I didn't want him to do the things I was doing like selling drugs, drinking and sleeping with different women. I was a mess and needed a change in my life; that's when a good friend from the past came into my life and told me about Jesus the Christ. I knew who he was by name and by the pictures of him on the cross, but not as my personal Lord, friend and savior. I received my salvation on February 16th 2003 and was delivered from all my addictions and burdens in seconds only with the mention of the name of Jesus. I gave up everything even my music which I loved so much and went to seek the Lord as a committed soldier for Christ." "6 months later the Lord spoke to me and told me to begin what is now my ministry, service through the microphone and salvation through his word." Grace and Peace, Brother Erick
