It spent 5 weeks on the DJ pages charts at #1 and reached #1 on the UK Mainstream, RnB, Urban, and Garage charts. Excellent reviews for the album have appeared in Touch, Blues Soul and RWD Magazine, DMC Update with the 5AM remix of All That Really Matters showing early appearances in the Street Soul Chart at No 2, DMC Update Urban Chart at No. 7 and the Hip List at No 8. West Coast RnB act Livin Out Loud come with the third UK single All That Really Matters from their album What About Us? The tracks radio edit features Hit Maker remix team 5AM, who have recently enjoyed top 5 chart success with their mix of the Lemar single Not That Easy. Other artists they have worked with include Usher, Kelly Rowland, Mario, Donell Jones and the upcoming Christine Aguilera single. For the clubs there are remixes to come from M J Cole, Karl Tuff Enuff Brown, Ray Paxon Groove Professor plus GE (Gary Esson). Early radio support includes Choice FM (Jenny Francis, Calvin Francis, Steve Wren), Galaxy FM (Wayne MacDonald, Steve Sutherland), Kiss FM (Swerve), Solar Radio (Bigger, JD) and BBC 1Xtra (Ronnie Herel, DJ B G Child). The Ray Paxon mix charted in M8 Magazine Top 40 Club in February and all mixes have found champions on Radio including Graham Park for the Ray Paxon mix and DJ Target for the Karl Brown mix. The track is a smooth and sultry percussive groove that features possibly the best vocal performance yet from Livin Out Loud front man Reuben MacCalla. its lyric in particular, is a personal statement for Reuben as it reflects his feelings for a woman he fell in love with. She got inside my heart, mind and soul. Once that happened I could never let her go. The mood of the song is a reflection of how she makes me feel. It's not always peaches and cream, but I would not have it any other way. She challenges me and always makes me want to be a better person.
