"100 Unnamed Things continues the band's forays into the eclectic and unexpected" - Rob Thomas - WI State Journal 11 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Pop Crossover, ROCK: Modern Rock Details: Gary Chin is responsible for the Dorothy brainchild, vowing in 1999 to start a project all his own--one over which he had creative license and the arena to experiment and make new. He sold his vision to long-time friend Kevin Lozada, and the two set out to form a band. The pair ran across Katy Rykken, a then-UW sophomore, and after an audition, she was on board. After several line-up changes over the course of 2 years, the band found their niche with guitarist Matt Nelson, whose creative approach to guitar playing was the final touch the band needed. Tim Russell is the latest addition to the ensemble, bringing fresh ideas and rhythms as percussionist.
