World Music from Lebanon. Fusion from the Middle East 6 MP3 Songs WORLD: Middle East, WORLD: World Traditions Details: The proceeds of this CD will go towards the relief efforts in Lebanon. We couldn't take a group picture of the participants in this album nor could we record the works in the quality we aspired to. Because of the abhorrence of the bombing and the ongoing war there are a lot of things we just couldn't do. Today, all our energy is channeled towards one goal: Survival. This is a tribute to those who died, to those who survived and to those who are helping and sustaining the refugees. In coordination with WAFA group - Kuwait. On the 23rd day of this war we know we are bleeding but we won't die. In this quest for self-determination we assert our undeniable right to live with dignity under the sun. Our resolve will not be defeated. We will remain the proof (albeit beaten and bloodied) that a multi-ethnic and multi-confessional society can exist and thrive beyond racial and confessional divisions. We will resurrect again regardless of the siege, despite of the bombings and in spite of the indiscriminate killing. On this 23rd day of the war We live Ghazi Abdel Baki I had my differences with you many times But I have never hated you. We quarreled but I never abandoned you. Don't be offended if at times I felt it was a one-sided love. Still I love you! What is your secret? I must admit that every time I try to escape you someone always came along to remind me of you and envy my love for you. I became protective of you and I love you even more. I ask you (Lebanon): Do you deserve all this love? Charbel Rouhana Regardless of all the destruction and death that Israel is inflicting on us we will not be terrorized nor will we be silenced. Each one of us will resist in his/her way. We will persist and in the final analysis we will show who is the real terrorist and who is refusing a fair and comprehensive solution. Ziyad Sahhab Death Under Siege: When there's no unity theres separation, thats death under siege. When theres no communication theres distance, thats death under siege. When theres no culture theres ignorance, thats death under siege. When theres no art theres futility, thats death under siege. When theres no love theres hate, thats death under siege. When theres no freedom and dignity, tyranny prevails and thats death under siege. As long as there is music there is hope to brake the chains and move ahead to better days. Abboud Saadi
