

Mp3 Calendar Songs Volume 1 - Electronic: Experimental

DOWNLOAD HERE

A remix album like no other from calendarsongs- I write a song. You remix. We make a record. 12 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Experimental, AVANT GARDE: Experimental Details: Calendar Songs: I write a song. You remix. We make a record. From October 2006 to September 2007, singer-songwriter Tamara Barnett-Herrin conducted a real-time experiment in songwriting and remix culture unlike any other. For one year she wrote an original song a month and posted the parts of that song online for anyone, anywhere to remix and upload back onto her website. The end result is a compilation of the 12 best mixes - Calendar Songs Volume 1. Calendar Songs began with a manifesto. Each months song had to be inspired by the events of that month, as well as written, composed and recorded entirely within that month. The challenge was set. As the months progressed a dazzling, sometimes bizarre and always innovative jigsaw puzzle started to grow. Enabled by Creative Commons licensing, remixers and countless enthusiasts from every continent joined Calendar Songs to add their voices. The site features individual playlists for each remixer, monthly pages for each original song and its remixes, message boards and videos. Now with almost 300 mixes streaming on the site (and more being added almost daily) Tamara is releasing Calendar Songs Volume 1 as a download and as a limited edition CD on her own Calendar Songs Recordings. The 12 mixes span all genres and colours, each one dramatically different from the next but all unified by Tamaras smart songwriting and rich, expressive vocals. There is fuzzy, dubby, electronica in eskimo-esques Play mix of October, and minimalist sensuality in Max Planks minimal techno Stalactite mix of January. Then theres the delicate live sound of Welsh acid-folk band A-line in the Crystal Cuckoo mix of December, the glorious Francophone pop of ditto-dittos la Parisienne mix of June and British classical composer Ross Lorraines lush Latin take on April. Calendar Songs Volume 1 is a unique and joyful musical experiment, an online phenomenon shaped by a brave and original talent. Tamara Barnett-Herrin lives and works in London where she developed Calendar Songs. She is also a vocalist for dance act Freeform Five, performing their hit No More Conversations and Perspex Sex as well as vocals on remixes and collaborations with Mylo, Alter Ego, Lindstrom and Shinichi Osawa among others. People who are interested in Massive Attack Bjrk Imogen Heap should consider this download.

DOWNLOAD HERE

Similar manuals:

MP3 In Color - In Color \(the Lamp Album\)