Details: Dreamwalk and awaken with Gail Warnings Season of the Soul, the singer/songwriters love song to the Source of creative expression. This collection is a result of years spent in self-introspection, travels abroad to India and Israel, with sojourns everywhere from Hollywood, California, to a mountain top ashram in Oregon, to her current residence in Miami Beach, Florida. She respectfully attributes the transformative experience to the benefits of Sant Mat meditation The songs are beckoning, haunting, soothing and inspiring with universal themes of desire, its inherent loss and loneliness, as well as the joy of celebrating inner and outer awareness through nature and human kindness. The listener is drawn into an experience of moods via electro-pop world infused rhythms and instrumentation as well as live performances of melancholic Gypsy violin and sultry West African drumming thanks to the production of David Salih. David and Gail met in Miami Beach, each looking to meet musicians, and after listening to several of her songs he agreed to add his keyboard wizardry, songwriting, and vocal talents and thus helped realize her artistic vision and bring this new project into fruition.
