Martin Verdonk does not fit in either of these categories which more or less seem to exclude each other. He is a class of his own, all by himself. Martin developed into that rare breed of percussionists who actually play everything, who are total performers, transcending the stereotype roles. The cd 'Tribal Fusion' reflects his past and present and points to a future of 'World Music Percussion' Martin Verdonk presents a new concept in the use of percussion and sets a standard for a generation to come" Jan Laurens Hartong- Rotterdam (head of the latin-american section of the world music department at the Rotterdam conservatory and bandleader of Nueva Manteca "To me, Martin is the best allround percussionist in Europe today, always respecting the roots and religion in the music he creates. His sincerity and honesty as a human being makes him very special. Listen to 'Tribal Fusion' and you will agree that this project not only will be a classic, but is a classic already!"
