He's shared his music in Russia in 1993, in Turkey in 1999, in Mexico in 2001 and in Thailand in 2002. The passion that fuels Perry's music is his desire to know Jesus more and to make him known among all nations. Perry says, "I'm not singing about a safe faith. I sing about what's tough for me: risk, surrender, dyin' to self so the real Jesus can be seen and known." Vision is Perry's 5th offering and showcases edgy, adult modern rock with thoughtful lyrics. Give it a sampling, it may be just what you're looking for. Perry's day job is radio. He's the host of the afternoon show at 99 seven, Family Life Radio, Midland, Michigan. In Perry's free time he likes to play basketball, ride his mountain bike, read challenging stuff like The Case For Faith by Lee Strobel and What's So Amazing About Grace by Phillip Yancey, and read science fiction (in particular, the continuing Star Wars series).
