FOLK: like Joni, FOLK: Folk Blues Details: "I consider myself a witness to the experiences of life and the human condition. My music is a mirror of the soul and a path of the spirit" Jenica Rayne's music is uniquely her own. She is a passionate songwriter, accomplished guitarist and seasoned performer. Born in picturesque Prince Edward County, an island on the shores of Lake Ontario in Canada, Jenica comes from a long line of professional musicians. She studied jazz guitar and voice at Malaspina University College in Nanaimo, and officially released her first album, the critically-acclaimed 'Hall of Memories', in front of a sell-out crowd at the Vancouver East Cultural Centre in 1999. Jenica is a poet of consequence and an advocate of social and personal change. Imagine tossing the music of Patty Griffin, Shawn Colvin, Ferron and Marianne Faithful into a pot and giving it a stir. The result would be a taste of Jenica Rayne.
