Over the years he has been in a number of bands however, recently, Kevin has concentrated on writing original material. Kevin released The Big Hellos "Good Buy", which saw a collaboration with musician, Bob Vincent. This partnership was extremely successful and the duo toured extensively, playing to a loyal following and new listeners alike. The album is still selling well and gaining momentum. Kevin is in the process of forming a new band with a view to re-recording some of the songs from 'The Big Hellos Good Buy' along with some brand new, recently penned tracks. Kevin Pallot The Pinnacles are now rehearsing and will be recording in the near future. The new line up consists of Kevin vocals and guitar, Vinny Donnelly on violin, Paul Matthews piano, Rob Thomas on bass and Jonathan Crowther on drums. The Songs you are now listening to are taken from a forthcoming album which was recorded live at the Jersey Arts Centre 18th August 2006. The album is now complete and is available from HMV Jersey, and will be available to purchase online very shortly. Comments: "This is a great album which is definitely worth buying. You will not be dissapointed. I'm going to buy one!" "How good was that!" Spencer Davies Channel 103 FM Gig reviews: Next was the highlight for me, Kevin Pallot and his new band. With keys, a fiddle player, bass and drums, Kev has found his sound and it was an awesome display. Kev's vocals are a cross between Eddie Vedder and Ray La Montagne and his lyrics are always personal and heart-felt. This band give a new dynamic and there were some truly goosebump moments, especially when the fiddle player weaved in between some of Kev's more belting vocals. One to watch and of Jersey's crop of singer-songwriters, I think the most marketable act on the scene.....watch out Nerina Pallot (no relation). Justin Thorne.
