A rare group of musicians performing a "spontaneous" blending of jazz, blues, pfunk, and more. Featuring Joseph Wooten on keyboards playing along side Squankidonk on six-string bass with special guests like Don Latarski on guitar. 10 MP3 Songs JAZZ: Jazz Fusion, ROCK: Extended Jams Details: With a running time of over seventy minutes Universal Reversal is a ten-track album, seven of which are freestyle improvisation. "Spontaneous music" which was created on the spot with no rehearsal or planning, sometimes not even a word spoken, just music. It features Joseph Wooten on keyboards, theremin, and more. An ten year veteran of "The Steve Miller Band", he can also be seen working with his younger brother Victor Wooten and playing with his own group "Joseph and the Hands Of Soul". Also featuring Squankidonk from "Squanky Kong" setting up the groove on six string bass with drummer Dwayne Taylor. Special guests include Don Latarski on guitar and Chris Dunkelberger (of Beard) on guitar. It's a collage of styles flowing in a raw stream of jams, scattered with surprising structure and precision. Recorded Sept. 10 thru 14, 2001 Dedicated to "911" in honor of the victims; their memory is forever in the music. Produced By James M House Mastered by Bernie Grundman in Hollywood, CA Bernie's work history includes artists like Michael Jackson, Fleetwood Mac, Ani DiFranco, Alanis Morissette, Steve Vai, and Joni Mitchell to name a few. The CD includes a 12 page full color booklet with various pictures of space (nebulae, galaxies, and more), all with weblinks to learn more about what each picture is. The booklet also features day by day production notes following the process of making the project.
