Motivation, inspiration, humor, and sound practical advice for parents and educators trying to raise children free of alcohol abuse, drug use, and addiction. 24 MP3 Songs SPOKEN WORD: Instructional, SPOKEN WORD: Audiobook Details: Jeffrey S. Wolfsberg is an internationally known prevention specialist of adolescent substance use and prevention for independent and international secondary schools. He is the publisher and editor of The Independent School Prevention Report and Independent Parent newsletters. Mr. Wolfsberg is the host of two podcast shows, one for parents interested in raising drug-free children "The Independent Parent Show" and the other for schools attempting to improve their prevention approach to underage drinking and teen drug use. Mr. Wolfsberg is widely known as a dynamic and entertaining speaker who brings to his work years of experience as an educator, addictions counselors, and trainer. He has appeared in TIME Magazine, FoxNews, FoxNews Radio, The Boston Globe, Independent School Magazine, Educational Digest, and The Boston Herald. He is a sought after expert for commentary on the prevention of underage drinking, teen drug use, and bullying. His down-to-earth speaking style, practical advice, sense of humor, and numerous stories make his ideas clear and accessible to his audiences. What people are saying about Jeffrey Wolfsberg Jeff brings to his presentations a down to earth understanding of children, the problems they face and the reality of the complexity in dealing with them. He injects humor when appropriate and makes us leave the meeting with much to ponder. In his talk about the college-bound students, for example, he offered information that was new to many about the reality of college life, yet also reassured many that the parenting they had done thus far would hold them in good stead- encouraging words meant a great deal." - Holly Scott,

Executive Director, PACT, Cleveland, OH I have worked with Jeff for many years and always look forward to his visits. Jeff has a wonderful way of connecting with the kids and the parents around some of the most troubling of adolescent issues. His credibility is unquestioned and he is the first person I turn to when I have questions or a difficult situation regarding drug or alcohol use. - Andrew Webster, Director of the Upper School, Berkeley Carroll School, Brooklyn, NY Jeff forges a powerful relationship with students. I think of him as an advocate to our students. Hes a trusted member of our school community. Hes more than a consultant to the Williams School. - Loren Sterman, School Counselor, The Williams School, New London, CT
