Details: Who is John Slattery? "And then, when we wake to the deep shores of light uncreated, then when the dazzling dark breaks over the far slopes of time, then it's time to toss things, like our reason, and our will; then it's time to break our necks for home." -Annie Dillard, Holy the Firm John believes that the fire lit within us on the day of our conception is awaiting to be set free by the love of God. He believes firmly in the power of God in miracles and in the strength of God in everyday life. He believes that life itself teems with exultation of the glory of God, and we need only glimpse it to be set free and see the face of God. Not only that, but his music rocks. Powerful vocals, intricate melodies, beautiful violin solos, and soulful, true emotion. There are few that venture into the depths of reality, humanity and come out alive retaining the ability to write remarkable songs about it all. Hear it for yourself.
