Details: Buttercup just got a new music box and she's absolutely in love with it. But this isn't just any ol' music box...it's a new CD from Maine musician Mary Kaye, and it's been a non-stop request from my music loving toddler since the folksy collection arrived in our mail box. Mary Kaye's vocals are surprisingly deep and rich, and hooked Buttercup right from the start. And with the lyrics to each song reading more like the pages of a much-loved and dog-eared book, it's no surprise Buttercup keeps asking for me to play, "Bok, mamma!" (That's "Buttercup" for "Box!") The indie children's recording artist has received rave reviews from Parenting Magazine, The Los Angeles Daily News, Booklist, and many more. - Berriesweetpicks.blogspot.com Music Box is a CD of charming tunes...delightfully upbeat album...highly recommended for children's library audio collections. -Midwest Book Review Mary Kaye's new music CD Music Box is a real hoo-oot-oooh-oooh...Mary Kaye is an award-winning musician played on many English-language radio shows worldwide. Her husky voice and folksy style are very easy on the ear. Her band features guitar, drums and many acoustical instruments that capture the interest of the listener young and old. Her song Bug immediately caught my attention. It placed me into the life of a bug and how children interact with them...Listeners are likely to walk around singing Tur-tley-lee-hee-hee Turtl-hoo-oooh around the house, a fun song that describes a turtle seen at the library. Other songs like Under the Moon take a walk with an elephant and meet up with an owl and kangaroo or make kids feel weird in the Hobbly Dobbly House where everything is odd are fun to sing to also. Songs like Robbie Robot, Hot Chocolate Fairy and Sea Water capture children's imagination by bringing objects to life. The Hot Chocolate Fairy is warm and chocolatey, Sea Water wants more water and she waves and waves...Music Box is a CD filled with child friendly creative songs that delight the ear. Full of fun sounds that animals make or that occur in nature, children will have fun listening and dancing to it. -Sheri Harper, Preschoolentertainment.com We just had the opportunity to listen to Mary Kayes new CD, Music Box. Mary Kaye is an award-winning childrens musician from Maine who combines a very sophisticated vocal style with lovely childrens themes and sounds. Mary Kayes rich voice reminds me of Natalie Merchant or Sarah McLachlan, but her songs are written with childrens needs in mind. She utilizes a lot of repetition and silly sounds that keep young kids interested and entertained, like in the beep-boop song Robbie Robot, and she also plays with alliteration and funny word combinations that kids find irresistible, like in the funny rhyme song Tasting Tea. Definitely keep your eyes out for this one its a perfect mix of beautiful vocals and kids music. -Bostonchildrensmusic.com My kids love music of all kinds, from jump and dance music to mellow and sweet music. When we popped in our new CD Music Box from Maine based artist, educator mom Mary Kaye, we were instantly grooving and chilling out. Mary Kayes voice is hypnotic and the lyrics are fun and fresh. Every time we hear Hot Chocolate Fairy the kids eyes light up with imagination. When the kids get wild and crazy in the car, I put in our Music Box CD and they instantly stop to listen. I like that the music instantly captures them and that the songs are easy to learn and sing a long with. The Music Box CD has now found a permanent home in my sons CD player. He loves to listen to Mary Kayes sweet voice as he relaxes before supper and before he goes to sleep. With songs like Sleepy Land and Under the Moon soothing him, he quickly releases his tension and sings along to the music. -Chelle, Theopinionatedparent.com If you havent ever heard of Mary Kaye and her previous 3 CDs (I Sang It Just For You, Mouse Jamboree, and Spin Your Web) then you might want to get to know her and her music. With a voice that Parenting Magazine says is reminiscent of Natalie Merchant, Mary Kayes 12 new imaginative songs are original, creative, and are simply delightful. I love listening to her melodic voice as I hear her tunes coming from Little Miss Techies room. -techsavvymama.com
