Hanna. The Power Pop Rock group has played throughout the LA club circuit, and opened for George Clinton Parliament-Funkadelic in front of thousands of screaming fans. This offering, "Better Off Alone", represents a wider variety of Rock styles, including the trademark up-tempo Power Pop sensibilities of TOOLBOX. A common motif in this album is that of liberation, self-reliance, motivation - if fed up with being in a rut, move on to greater things in life. With songs like "Hate" and "Pay", Robby delves into darker, harder, angrier Rock. On the flip side of the emotional spectrum, with songs "Live Out Your Dreams", "Maybe", and "I Am Nothing", the amped energy of the album takes a short respite into a mellower, acoustic guitar sound. Then there's the sca and reggae influences in "That's The Way It Goes" and "Get On With Your Life" to make this a truly eclectic Pop Rock record. Biography Robby D.
