Details: I'm Gary Taylor, an English/Icelandic Solo Artist, based in Birmingham/Reykjavik, I started making music from an early age, inspired by the original music of the time, Punk, New Wave, Metal, Reggae, Electro, Rap, Pop, Disco, Funk, playing drums on cardboard boxes and tins writing lyrics and singing with friends in my parents Garage (we all wanted to make a break in to music scene even back then in the late 70's), from there on in I played on whatever Home keyboard, Organ, Piano, I could lay my hands on, always dreaming of Synthesizers and Studios and being known for my music. In the 80's over some time I made music with my friends at home on simple old School Yamaha and Casio keyboards (you know the ones with a button for Drums and Fills), we also added taped recordings of cool phrases from Video Films of the day (yes it was old school and its called Sampling and Editing now), this was the start of my creative approach to making music, I started DJ'ing around this period as well, Scratching records, Mixing up Tapes and general madness on two Turntables which I still involve in my music from time to time. Then came the 90's and I worked and played hard and bought myself my first Home Studio, i worked under the name of Solid Dawn and built up a good back catalogue of ideas and Demos all the time working harder on my DJ live set performances, this is where I really learnt what music was all about, People, Gatherings, inspiration, new technology, attitudes and different approaches to making music, for me yet another perfect building block. When the Millennium crashed in I started teaching myself more and more musical skill, everything about the musical process I could possibly find out about, I also went back to college to learn more about Music Production and Engineering, now the time is right for people to hear my Music and Sounds, with the added confidence and mobility the Internet brings Ive started my Alba Beat project up, you see a form of it here and now on the net. So there we have some of my Musical development in a nutshell, there really is so much, much more to tell you, that said I'm sorry this Biog didn't last that long or not, I do hope you will enjoy my Album and be cool and download it here, enjoy the journey, Gary, Alba Beat.
