The Keylicious Critics top six pix!

1. Time in a Bottle Jim Croce Jim C., Thanks for an amazing, timeless, classic love song. Gentle...cerebral...hypnotic... We added some playful, waltzing, classical piano along with a bit of a hip-hop beat because well that's what a voice inside my head said we should try a few months ago. Was that you Jim?

2. Your Song Elton John and Bernie Taupin Its true. I lost some sleep over this one. I mean, Elton John and Bernie Taupin. That line at the end of the Your Song chorus how wonderful life is when you're in the world...the lyric, the music, the orchestration unbelievably masterful and satisfying romantic stuff. It seemed possibly a really bad idea to try to come up with something that would be artful and romantic enough to actually honor, and not insult, the original but we hope you'll agree that the Karma in the studio that week shared among Krystal, Yours truly, and let's not forget guitar man Jeff, will lead to lots of eager downloads. And we're pretty sure that Elton and Bernie would at least consider sitting near us at an evening music function.

3. In Love With You Forever Kenny Adamson This is a big-time wedding song Oh yes we would advise caution when listening to this one. The first few times you listen to it may cause a dramatically increased, and perhaps, ill-advised closeness to occur between you and anyone you're dating at the time. It's that dead-on wedding-ish. Singer Michael Smith is about as close to a reincarnation of Luther, the King of soul ballads, as a brother can get. Concetta sings Look at my WingsIm flying and you say Oh LordIm marryin' Concetta or somebody now!... Concettas marriedbutjust be careful. 4.I Need Your Love Kenny Adamson OK so Once upon a time is a corny way to begin a song. But ya gotta love I Need Your Love. Its Soul, its PopWe give you a happy, make that silly, bouncy- happy, but cool enough groove to counteract any brief appearance of corniness. Our Lady Krystal sings it so nice and pretty shell be the first one to make you sure that only love matters in lifeeven if your perfect someone is a few roses short of a dozen.

5.Keystrings Kick Kenny Adamson People, Im sure you all remember that the piano is a string instrument. That helps explain why I have always had a love affair with piano and violins. We got some piano and violins kickin something slicksomething funkysomething definitely jazzy and audaciously original. If you want to hear what piano and violins are really supposed to be doin in a big music hall when people gather round, Keystrings Kick shows yoult will challenge your mind and your speakersturn it up! 6.Funkalat Kenny Adamson What happens when Funk gets together with a sassy Latin Bosa Nova? You get a song you gotta like a lot called Funkalat. Amigos check it out. Weve got funk, for you Boomers. Weve got some Herb Alpert/Tijuana Brass horn goin on (thanks Evan, nice blowin), and some cheerful whimsical piano from a hard workin - hard playin brother (KA). Give us some love people and well give ya more back! plus Best Keylicious Piano Story Guong Dong Kenny Adamson So, here I am playing the piano at a wedding reception for lots of real nice Chinese folks. It was between songs and Im messing around improvising this classical nocturne that I hadnt felt the inspiration to finishbut it had some soft, swirling, breezy phrases... I felt some eyes Then, I looked up, and 10 to 15 elegant Chinese elders were gathered around the piano just quietly, peacefully watchingwatching my fingerswatching me Lifeand music were never more mysterious and beautiful than at that moment. I finished Guong Dong the next morning. Thank you my Chinese friends. Guong Dong is named after an enchanting place in Chinaa place, I am told, where people are uncommonly rich in spirit and grace. We appreciate your interest. Have a peaceful week!
