Using nothing but a Parker Fly guitar, Eric Garner paints some of the most relaxing ambient audio landscapes you'll ever hear. It's soothing, reflective, and unconventionally original. 11 MP3 Songs EASY LISTENING: Mood Music, WORLD: World Fusion Details: This is Eric Garner's debut album featuring relaxing unconventionally original ambient guitar music. And every song was created using only a Parker Fly Delux guitar. Eric has been composing, performing, and producing music for over 20 years. He plays completely "by ear" and does not read music. "I tried to take piano lessons and music sight-reading classes", Eric explains, "but when it came right down to it, every music instructor I've met said I could progress much faster if I pursued my music naturally." And pursue it, he did. On this album, Eric manages to produce some awesome and inspiring music using the guitar as the only instrument. Even the drum sounds you hear are not really drums. They are the sounds of Eric tapping on various parts of the guitar itself. "I wanted to limit myself to just using the guitar to see if I could stretch my musical ability beyond the boundaries of the instrument", Eric admits, "into realms of uncharted musical territories, of feelings, and true artistic expression." Undeniable Passion is truly a remarkable debut album with such a unique sound that anyone who takes the time to sit and listen to these songs will find themselves transformed by the melodies and left wondering how such beauty can be created by a man and his guitar. But don't take our word for it, listen and see for yourself.
