The Folk version of Hank Williams, stories that put the heart out on the sleeve a mix of life that has traveled both the hard and good roads. 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: Traditional Folk, COUNTRY: Country Folk
Details: Patrick Wyatt Rheume is a singer/songwriter from Bangor , Maine. Born in 1958 the youngest of five children, I remember my childhood as filled with varied styles of music. My father sang Barbershop Quartet while my mother listened to Johnnie Cash, the Statler Bros. and the Carter Family. My sister favored Peter Paul Mary, Simon and Garfunkel and The Mamas The Papas, while my older brother enjoyed heavy metal. When I was old enough to choose my own music it was Crosby/Stills/Nash, Bob Dylan , John Denver, and Pure Prairie League. I wrote my first poetry when I was six years old. In 1988 I began attending bluegrass, old-time and folk festivals - it was then that I started to craft original tunes. It should come as no surprise that this CD contains musical styles varying from Maritime to Newgrass to Gospel to Humor.
