Ambient psychedelic soundscapes 10 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Ambient, ELECTRONIC: Chill out
Details: Phosphene is a cosmic ambient band by John Cavanagh from Scotland. John used to be a member of a group called Electroscope. Long Meadow Felt Company is a real trip into the depths of the mind. At least Klaus Schultze and the other German masters must have been an influence. The album is full of very mind-expanding works. Almost all the album is produced with electronic means, but there are some occasional vocals and guitar to a very refreshing effect. In a right state of mind the album will get you on a flight through galaxies, at times on a walk through ancient moors, and there are many other images that come to mind as well. This is really weird, strange but fine album, and I can recommend it to anybody into cosmic, electronic head-music without rhythm. It might also be worth the effort to try out the other releases by the company. oggum.
