Blend together a mixture of twin fiddles, dobro and old style pedal steel with a little honky tonk guitar, piano and acoustic finger picking and you'll be listening to Chris Mc Leron's new album..... Somewhere Down the Road. 12 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Traditional Country, COUNTRY: Bluegrass Details: Chris Mc Leron Somewhere Down The Road A few years on and further down the road finds the release of Chris second album aptly entitled... Somewhere Down The Road A more sparse recording than its predecessor its a collection of another 12 songs all written by Chris and co- produced at Shindig studios in Coleraine with Kevin Reid. It is however no less an album! With several up-tempo numbers, a few fox trots and of course a couple of very strong ballads it presents the listener with a very well balanced creation. Songs like the up-tempo opening country/newgrass and title track Somewhere Down The Road and then the more 'old style' country song Another Drink prepare you nicely for the rest of the album. The philosophical Roll The Dice and the humorous Whats Gotten Into You Tonight have a more alt.country style and delivery but blend in perfectly with the good old country dance songs I Aint Goin To Work Today and Country Truck Driving Man. Old Hanks never too far from the scene either as his influence can be heard on the super tracks Too Long Gone and If I Just Had the Time while the ballads Shes Leaving Home and All That I Can Do display a warm acoustic style with a gentle plaintive vocal. The whole album has an over-all acoustic feel complimented with some beautiful twin fiddles and tight vocal harmonies with some really nice guitar/steel and Dobro licks here and there which add a little colour ... musicians include: Drums: Tony Phillips / Bass: Clive Culbertson and Jeff Craig /Acoustics: Anthony Toner/ Fiddle: John Fitzpatrick/ Electric guitar,Dobro and Pedal Steel: Al Mc Quilken/ Piano: James Cloudy Henry /Harmonies: Noel Mc Keary/ Electric guitar: Jeff Mc Cooke. Recorded at Shindig studios. Coleraine 028703 42591 Produced by Chris Mc Leron / Kevin Reid A great follow up album to Hands Of Time and great additions to any set of songs especially as Chris prepares to take to the road with his new exciting band where, he informs me, they will perform a lot of his own material alongside songs from artists who have influenced and inspired him over the years. Songs by Kris Kristofferson, John Prine, Chip Taylor, Steve Earle and a few others.
