An artist who fluently combines his talent for lyricism with his production, and engineering talents to create masterpieces. Since a young age rising out of poverty was his mission. In order to do this he developed a hussle mentality combined with crops full of motivation and determination. For his first official solo album release Blood, $weat, and Tear$, Fluid wrote all his tracks, produced all the beats, did his own engineering, and provided his own funding without help from outside sources, showing that he also has a keen business and organization sense about him that is rarely seen at his age. He is qouted as saying For now I enjoy being independent because Im a true artist. I make most of my money through guerilla sales, or straight out the trunk, because I dont need gimmicks because I love my music. I stand behind my music 200 so I love to meet my fans who feel the same way. You can catch him at Venice beach, Hollywood, The third street promenade and various other malls and hot spots in Los Angeles. *Reviews: A true classic album--The Call; Las Vegas, NV One of the most powerful albums of this generation --Hot Spot Magazine, Houston, TX The most promising new artist in the game --Real
