Lush, haunting, cinematic, atmospheric electro rock 11 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Pop Crossover, ROCK: Goth Details: Going for the Big Sound, the Big Emotions, the Big Excitement. 6 tracks have been making the rounds on College stations and internet radio casts. '(You Make Me Feel) Alive' is getting the remix treatment from synthpop band Ganymede, with their Cohaagen release of 'Evolution' out in March. The 'Somewhere In The Night Sky' CD has been top 10 at College stations WMSE, Milwaukee, WZBC in Boston, plus stations in New York, Albuquerque and Dayton. Songs have also been getting play in Bergen, Norway, Qubec, Canada, and London, England. We've gone Global! So, about the music...In contrast to 'Deadly', 'Somewhere..' is much more organic. Acoustic and electric guitars, a string quartet, lush background vocals, at times live bass, flute and piano. Like Kate Bush, or Peter Gabriel, the styles and sounds are cohesive because of a musical vision, a sense of story, and atmosphere. "There is someone living inside your dreams, there is something living inside your eyes, moving behind the scenes-under the midnight sky." The door is open, come inside...
