BLUES: Rockin' Blues, ROCK: Rockabilly Details: With a fury of gentlemanly grace, Ottawas most electrifying musical act has proven its faculty to astound virtually any audience with their unique form of thunderous, blues-driven Rock&Roll. Since their formation in 2003, The Coggs have redefined the Indie-rock scene here in Ottawa, deriving their inspiration not only from contemporary circles, but also from more traditional sources, including Chicago, New York and Memphis. More than anything, this explosive trio lead by Jeff Coghill on Guitar and Vocals, Travis Hood on Bass and Mike Brittain on Drums are recognized for their dedication to strong musicianship and soulful songwriting. Simple yet penetrating, Coghills songs capture the essence of the Rock&Roll tradition, as well as the immediate attention of all listening. On May 27 2006, The Coggs released their much anticipated first full length album entitled "Blackjack and Cigarettes". Independently recorded and produced by Jeff Coghill, this album compiles 11 uplifting original tunes and is a great representation of their sound and song style.
