a dark deep pounding bass in space journey of noise, sonic transmissions and heavy beats. this is a prophetic vision of yourself in the future. the primary signal has been rebroadcast to earth from the crypticon.deathstar. 34 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Experimental, HIP HOP/RAP: Trip Hop Details: all rights on this production reserved for earth domination and are preserved in a cryogenic chamber. filed under the non-existent, but soon to be created category of "freak-hop", this production emulates a landscape of nonstop aural delight and at times, psychosis. not for the faint of heart, the subject matter and lo-fi nature of the wicked sampling induces a sort of addiction or repulsion from the album. ...it came from another galaxy... another system of laws and sciences. your standards do not apply... all earth transmissions have been recorded. distorted, blown-out sonically mystifying, they are a small part of the intergalactic library of media. legal conflicts do not apply, because your laws do not. all threats are futile... the only solution is the complete submission of our senses. we have frequency trackers on all human brains, so escape is impossible. your movies, music and mind control programs are all important for your evolution... consider this a commentary of your progress through the battle of intelligence...
