Details: Alex Fox has sold over 300,000 albums!!! Born in Buenos Aires, Argentina, Alex Fox received a well rounded musical education in his native Argentina with great masters in guitar, harmony, and conducting. He later completed his studies in the US. He established his credentials as a composer, showman, and independent recording artist, performing for many years at one of Miamis most popular locations: The Art Deco District in South Beach. He has successfully created an exciting and unique musical style, a blend of classical rumba and flamenco rhythms with a Mediterranean flair, and has produced eight CDs of original music that are currently out in the national and international market. He has performed with, and for, famous musicians. He recorded with Julio Iglesias on the 1996 release La Carretera, opened several concerts for the great percussionist Tito Puente at the Istanbul Amphitheatre in 1999, and for The Eagles. He made several appearances on American TV (Good Morning L.A., channel 4), on Spanish TV (Cristina and la Cosa Nostra), and performed several times on European and Mid-Eastern MTV. Furthermore, and for many years now, he has been a preferred host at the Cannes musical scene. At corporate events he has played on many occasions for GE, Office Depot, and Motorola. At private events and benefits, he has had the honor to perform for President Clinton, Mr. John Kerry, the president of Lebanon, the president of Turkey, Italian designer Versace, prince Rainier of Monaco and many other public figures. On February 13, 2006, Alex Fox performed his original music with band and Las Olas Studio Orchestra at the Broward Center for the Performing Arts. But by far Alex Fox greatest achievement has been to create that broad base of followers worldwide who have supported him over the years, and continue to do so to this day. This has enabled him to remain a successful independent artist, with his own record label: Alex Fox Productions Inc. With his sons David and Sebastian, young talented musicians in their own right, he formed the Fox Trio, and recorded the Fox Trio CD. Performing with his live band, Alex Fox has taken his music to another level. He is now back with a wonderful CD , Influences, this time to take us on a musical tour through different styles, rhythms and genres. The new CD features David Fox as song writer and performer and Sebastian Fox in classical guitar (Sebastian has recently had the honor to perform with Luciano Pavarotti). With his newly formed group, Alex Fox continues to perform at private events, benefits, and concerts around the world.
