Details: Hailing from Lincoln, Nebraska, Lucas Kellison and The Assembled Soul bring a unique rendition of soul music to the stage and studio, alike. Their sound is driven by a gritty rhythm section, soaring harmonies, and infectious funk. With a vast array of original music and interesting spins on classic covers, LK&AS bring substance and thought to their always danceable, fun music. In his first solo effort, Rise, Lucas Kellison brought a new sound to the Midwest (he is currently a member of SadSon Productions), drawing comparisons to Dangelo, Prince, Maxwell, Stevie Wonder, Jamiriquai, and Robin Thicke. After several awards and much critical acclaim--including Lincoln Journal Star's Album of the Year, Indie-music.com's top 10 of 2007, and many others--Kellison decided that he wanted to form a full on 8-piece bandone that would appeal to a vast array of people. It is safe to say The Assembled Soul has been just that, leaving everything on stage with jaw-dropping performances and musical precision. The band consists of an all-star lineup, including Andrew Tyler on drums, Nicholas Semrad .s, Adam Boomer on guitar, Bill Catlett on bass, Liz Anderson, Aundria Wagner and Jason Wagner on vocals, and Kellison on guitar and lead vocals. The members have shared the stage with the likes of Derek Trucks, Herbie Hancock, The Dirty Dozen Brass Band, Karl Denson, Boyz II Men, Galactic, and many, many others. Their first band effort, titled NEW MUSE, is set to be released in 2009.
