Imagine a cello, a folk guitar, an occasional piano and two sweet female voices all working in gentle harmony with one another. 11 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk Pop, FOLK: like Joni Details: About General Housekeeping Tips: Relative Sight has delicately woven 11 folky pop tunes, with influences ranging from blues to classical to new age and moods ranging from silly to bittersweet, from wrenchingly sad to jubilant. As singers, both women are wonderful and strong; their voices compatible but different enough to lend texture to the tunes. Palalay's guitar work is gentle and assured and dances through the tunes' melodies where Taggart's cello work lays a robust atmospheric substructure. As songwriters, Taggart and Palalay are good with a hook, and their lyrics matter-of factly address universal themes. As producers, the two know the value of a gentle hand and a clear sound. (above review by Andy Stevens, Press Sun-Bulletin) "The hushed and utterly beautiful music of Relative Sight is immediately intoxicating and winning. Consisting of guitarist Heidi Palalay and cellist Janet Taggart, both of whom share vocal duties, the duo plays some of the sweetest, most hypnotic music you'll hear." "...Taggart and Palalay bring sophistication and grace to the music." --Clay Steakley, Performing Songwriter Magazine, June 2003 A finalist in the Lilith Fair Talent Search and in the Unisong Songwriting Competition, Relative Sight is an acoustic duo that combines the talents of Heidi Palalay (guitar, oboe, piano and vocals) and Janet Taggart (vocals, cello, piano and guitar). These two classically trained musicians met as roommates while attending Baltimore's famed Peabody Conservatory of Music. Blending the technical, crystal clarity of their classical training with the immediacy and presence of the folk tradition, an evening with Relative Sight amounts to a nonstop flight through the highest levels of acoustic atmosphere. "It's just my observation that Janet and Heidi bring something to the singer-songwriter realm that I get to experience all too rarely. Their high level of discipline really shines through, and their performance moved me on so many levels. It's just great to hear music that's so well conceived and articulated." --Dave Carter
