With this heartfelt coming-of-age message, for both the mother and the child, Christine Sevec-Johnson sets the stage for the spiritual journey she takes us on through her CD This Bond. After listening to This Bond we are left anticipating our next trip with Christine Sevec-Johnson and look forward to her second CD which she will record this summer. With her lyric voice, Christine Sevec-Johnson performs her original contemporary Christian songs that are hauntingly beautiful with styles ranging from Jazz to Blues to Country to Broadway Musical to Traditional Ballad on her debut CD This Bond. Christine has been compared to Anne Murray, Amy Grant and Ginny Owens, not only in the sound of her voice, but stylistically in her music. While Christine might be a newcomer to the Christian music scene, she is no stranger to singing and performing on stage since she is a professionally trained singer and actor. She originated the role of Cindy in the off-Broadway hit "Suds, The Rockin' 60s Musical Soap Opera." Christine also earned an MFA in acting from the world renown American Conservatory Theatre in San Francisco. With This Bond, her debut CD, she uses all that training and talent to reach soaring heights and deepest depths of emotion and meaning. Her message will be immediately grasped by long-time Christians, but speaks loud and clear to those just starting their walk with God. The 14 tracks on This Bond reach out a loving hand to everyone who listens to it with it's message of love, hope, joy, forgiveness and redemption. One need not be a Christian, though, to understand Christine Sevec-Johnson's This Bond. From the joyful spirit in "Hosanna to the King," to the Country inspired drums and pedal steel guitar in title track "This Bond," to the sweet ballad "Give Us Wings" to the Jazz/Blues tones in "Livin' the Dash," to the Broadway feel of "Jesus Comes for Everyone," there is something for every musical taste on This Bond. "Healing Prayers" is a moving song about those times that we all need God to reach out a comforting hand to reassure us. "Reach Out" is in honor of Cunningham Children's Home in Urbana, Illinois, and reminds us to "reach out with hope." "Shake It Down for Jesus" and "He's Comin' for You" are on the lighter side of fun and the latter song features Christine's husband Brian rapping to raise money and awareness for Jesus. The upbeat songs "I Will Walk With You," "God Song" and "He Is Risen" joyfully proclaim love for God and all that we have because of God. "Thank You," the last song on the disk, wraps up this musical gift with a bow and a heartfelt, Jazz/Blues finishing touch. Just as the song says, "Thank you Lord for all your love, and cradling us in your hands with velvet gloves," Christine Sevec-Johnson deserves a round of applause for This Bond cradling us with it's velvet tones and deep, meaningful yet fun and joyful lyrics. A value added feature of This Bond is the Enhanced CD content on the disk. In this recent role she was also the director of Wesley's praise band. The CD was recorded at Champaign's Pogo Studio, owned and operated by Mark Rubel who is known to local music fans because of his band "Captain Rat and the Blind Rivets."
