Original Sound Original Lyrics 2 MP3 Songs POP: Pop/Rock, ROCK: Adult Contemporary Details: After being holed up writing for five years, Kristy L. Copenhaver began releasing her music on Garageband in December 2007, where the demo version of Days An Weeks And Years recieved notice. Her music has been compared to Neil Young, most notably because of her reflective writing style. More focused on the forming the words, she continues to evovl as an artist today. Kristy grew up in small Midwestern town, Logansport, Indiana, her Mom was a social worker and her Dad a union representative. She notes- 'I can remember as a child, watching my parents fight for the rights of others. I sat on picket lines with my Dad an heard stories of my Mom fighting for the betterment of children's lives, watching this forever impacted me. After moving to Vancouver, Canada and working with Producer Ryan Hauschild her music began to come alive. Her ability to convey what she is hearing, coupled with his ability to translate this through his style and sounds, makes this duo a unique pairing. Kristy shares- 'I like the fact it is about the 'Creation' and I am always challenged by the fact that I haven't written my best song yet. I think a song is like a great puzzle, bringing all the pieces and elements together, putting them where they belong. I never push a song to come together, I just let it happen and it can be days to weeks to months before it is finished, and I can finally get some solid sleep. I will wake up in the middle of the night and the melody will play until I can figure out what words fit where in the music. It kind of takes me over till its' completed, maybe that was the hardest part early on in my songwriting- trying to make sense of the process. People who are interested in Sheryl Crow Neil Young Bjrk should consider this download.
