"...a very interesting release, a mlange of folk, world, jazz and rock... for once eclectic is not a dirty word."

- Zeitgeist Magazine 11/04/04 10 MP3 Songs POP: California Pop, ROCK: Jam-band Details: From the reviews: ||"an absolute gem, which you really need to hear"|| ||"an aural treat by any standards"|| ||"should be all over the radio"|| ||"captivating"|| ||"fascinating"|| ||"multi-dimensional"|| ||"a unique approach to music"|| ||"mightily impressed by a new talent"|| ||"Liam's guitar work is stunning, his singing superb"|| ||"a great sense of rhythm"|| ||"his rich, deep voice brings out another dimension from the songs"|| ||"classy, excellent tunes!"|| ||"jangle-tastic"|| ||"tumultuous and satisfying"|| ||"VERY cool"|| ||"richly creative"|| ||"these songs are anything but dull"||

Verge includes elements of rock, folk roots, jazz and world music. Zeitgeist Magazine writes "for once eclectic is not a dirty word" and Radio Six International says "Verge is also very good because no two songs are alike which makes it more interesting." The first part of Verge contains the artier, edgier tracks and the second part contains the lighter ones. Record of the Year: Verge won Record of the Year 2004 at Radio Six International. The success is shared with some talented friends who worked on Verge - most notably Andy Goessling, Tim Carbone and Buck Dilly from New Jersey bands Railroad Earth and Kings in Disguise and also guitarist Moris Tepper (PJ Harvey, Tom Waits, Captain Beefheart and the Magic Band) and his band from California. On the tech side you may also be familiar with Fred Kevorkian who did the mastering, just as he has done for Phish, Sonic Youth, Dave Matthews, The White Stripes, Lou Reed, Lenny Kravitz, LL Cool J and more. MUSICIANS on VERGE: LIAM MACDONALD: guitar, lead vocals, songwriter TIM CARBONE: violin, back-up vocals, harmonium, harmonica, kaen, Tibetan singing bowls, hand percussion ANDY GOESSLING: saxophones, 12 string guitar, guitar, marxophone, wood flute, oboe BUCK DILLY: guitar, pedal-steel, lap-steel and banjo, Hammond B3 organ JAMES GILHEANY: bass DAVE MOORE: drums ROBERT MATARAZZO:
