Details: In the Malian Sahel, the Bafing and Bakoye Rivers meet and flow past sand, scrub brush, millet fields, and rangeland. The Sahel is a borderland between the Sahara and Central Africa, between a world of nomads and the settled world of towns and cities. This collection of songs also exists in a borderland, providing a route between different geographies, languages, and musical traditions. The result, is a new music, for the guitars six strings and the koras twenty-one.
