The mission of this organization is to provide a model of sanctification and the purest quality of education as it relates to the Gospel of Jesus Christ through various channels thereby enhancing the lives of Christian people all around the world. Obedient Inc. does not discriminate in any way regardless of denomination, race, gender, economic class or division. This organization centers itself on teaching obedience to the word of God as the foundation for effective living. OBEDIENT INC. is highly focused in the area of entertainment and fashion as these areas of interest are attracting many people to a worldly lifestyle that is not complementary to Christian living. Obedient, Inc. intends to redirect the focus of the entertainment and fashion industry in such a way that it is made acceptable before Christ and in doing so create a positive environment for the up and coming generation of children and those who are responsible for their successes. The primary goal of the organization is to deliver the gospel of Jesus Christ while at the very least maintaining a high quality of creativity, upbeat and positive energy. In doing so, Obedient Inc. purposes to reinvest any proceeds from music, television, fashion design or related financial contributions back into the corporation to support ministerial teachings, career training programs, and various types of educational grants.
